ACHIEVEMENTS

NU STUDENTS WINNING FIRST AND SECOND PLACES IN THE 14TH SEASON OF THE UGRF

Congratulations to our students for immaculately winning first and second places in the 14th season of the UGRF. The project that focused on "Green Synthesis of Silver Nanoparticles and Waste Management" won the first prize, and the project that used "Eco-friendly Microbial Fuel Cells and Green Algae" took home the second. Additionally, a presentation from the team in charge of the study "Jellyfish Collagen Displays Impeccable Wound Healing Activity" was picked from among the top 10 presentations delivered in the auditorium.

ICPC CLUB AT ECPC COMPETITION

During the last two semesters, International Collegiate Programming Contest (ICPC) Community has trained over 160+ contestants from 3 different levels in preparation for the annual problem-solving ECPC competition. In addition, the community held a severe problem-solving summer camp before the contest for NU students.

On the 21st of August, 54 different teams competed in Alexandria in the ECPC qualifications; 4 teams qualified for the ECPC, where they competed with 250+ other teams from all universities across Egypt. The ECPC competition took place on the 27th of August, and the team "Partially Graduated" ranked 6th all over Egypt as a silver medalist. Our winning team has qualified for the ACPC competition, where they will compete all over Africa and the Middle East.

EVENTS

“CAREERS: CHOICES, CHALLENGES, AND ROADMAPS TO SUCCESS” WORKSHOP

Nile University had the pleasure to welcome worldwide distinguished scientists who humbly accepted the invitation to be part of the public panel discussion workshop: “Careers: Choices, Challenges, and Roadmaps to Success.”

NU welcomed over 600 attendees from all over Egypt varying from early career researchers, fresh graduates, university and high school students who have passion to learn about career planning, opportunities for studying and travel.

The professors discussed different topics on education and career and answered any concerns about research and entrepreneurship. They also interacted with the attendees about opportunities of scholarship and travel which had an extraordinary effect on the audience.

Our esteemed guests were:

- Prof. Moeness Amin, Life Fellow IEEE, Director of the Center of Advanced Communications, Villanova Uni – USA. and Award winner, 2022 IEEE Dennis J. Picard Gold Medal in Radar Technologies.
- Dr. Ramzy Abdelaziz, Egyptian Scientist and Professor of Nanotechnology at Aalto University, Finland and University of Kiel, Germany. Author of the best-seller book: عافر

And from Nile university, our dear professors:

- Prof. Ahmed Radwan (VP for Research and acting as Dean of the School of Engineering and Applied Sciences)
- Prof. Hassan Y. Aly (Dean NU Business School and Chairman of BOT, Economic Research Forum), who hosted the event and managed the panel discussion with our beautiful professor Dr. Irene Samy Fahim (Director of SESC Research Center and Associate professor Industrial Engineering program).

3RD EGYPTIAN JUNIOR RESEARCHER COMPETITION 2022 (SPECIAL EDITION OF 14TH UGRF)

The Egyptian Junior Researcher Competition is the national special edition of the Undergraduate Research Forum (UGRF) proudly organized by Nile University to extend the invitation – for the 3rd year in a row - to all Egyptian undergraduate junior research talents.

Attractive AWARDS were on the agenda with cash prizes up to 100,000 EGP, and other in-kind awards. The competition is an independent competition and participants can apply directly on their own to it, which isn't course projects or grades dependent)

NU OPEN HOUSE

NU Open House started with crowds flowing at our campus, all gathering to apply at NU. Dr. Wael Akl, University's President, gave an introductory speech followed by answers from the admission team to the parents' questions. The students and their parents then took a tour around NU campus and its facilities. The last stop was the booth panels which had representatives and the dean from each school where our visitors got to ask whatever they wanted and learn about our different programs and future jobs.
