

NILE UNIVERSITY

NU is the first research, non-profit “Ahleya” university in Egypt . It was inaugurated in 2007 as a world-class, internationally recognized education, research and entrepreneurial university.

Nile University is seeking to hire:

Dean of the School of Engineering & Applied Sciences (EAS)

The Dean of the School of Engineering is the chief academic and administrative officer of the School and its academic leader who coordinates the governance of the School and leads the School toward achieving NU goals. The Dean reports to the Provost directly.

The Successful candidate will:

- Lead, and coordinate the School’s strategic planning and implementation.
- Supervise, evaluate and support the School programs in a manner that promotes excellence in instruction, scholarly and creative productivity, and service.
- Lead the School’s efforts towards local and international accreditation, and serve as the liaison officer with accrediting bodies relating to School programs.
- Ensure an effective and appropriate implementation of the research policies in collaboration with the Research Director and according to the NU’s strategy.

Requirements:

- Must hold the academic rank of “Full Professor”, and have proven track record as a leader, teacher, researcher, manager and public servant in a variety of settings.
- Must have strong skills in verbal and written communication, organization, and strategic planning.
- Must have the academic vision, experience, expertise and ability to improve School programs while making sure that all accreditation requirements concerning academics are being met.
- Must have the knowledge and skill required to undertake financial matters within the School.

To Apply:

Applicants must submit their CV to dean@nu.edu.eg , and mention the title of the job in the subject of the email.

For More information

www.nu.edu.eg/careers